

The TIGER

COMMENCEMENT NUMBER OF
THE ORANGE AND BLACK

1928

PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF
THE GRAND JUNCTION HIGH SCHOOL
GRAND JUNCTION, COLORADO

Dedication

We respectfully dedicate this volume to the members of the Senior Class of 1928, who, when chances for publication appeared in a precarious state, lent their untiring efforts and gave their generous support that the whole school might enjoy and cherish for years to come a record of the year's activities.

Foreword

Years come, years go. And so the time passes. Again we find ourselves upon the threshold of parting; but, before stepping out into the bigger and more wondrous sphere of life, let us pause a moment and reflect upon memories of happy activities in which we have all participated. Therefore, allow us, the Tiger Staff of '28, to present this book to you, the Students of the Grand Junction High School, in the hope that it will serve in later years as a true reminder of the many enjoyable times we have all had together.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1928, being in sound mind and body, and unafflicted with any of the ills common to mankind, do hereby declare this document to be our last will and testament.

First, we do hereby bequeath our great store of knowledge gained by four years' experience in high school, combined with our great ability in the arts of this world, to all those in succeeding classes who have the mental ability to grasp the same. More in particular:

1. I, Richard Williams, do give unto Robert Denslow my permanent waving set, in order that he may keep up the great reputation I have already gained for them.
2. Nancy Desch leaves her ability to keep awake in Chemistry to Carol Sharp.
3. Lynola Day, Oryl Burnett, Frieda Grimm and Aanes Kniley leave some of their golden silence to Alice Peck.
4. Kenneth Hall leaves his undying affection for one girl and one only to Jack O'Conner. Edwin and Elberta Soule give their soulful countenances to the abused Juniors who need them.
5. Clarence Saunders and Karl Shaefer leave their motor vehicles to the walking members of the Junior Class. (They'll still walk.)
6. Eva Rigg leaves her bright cracks to Narcissa House.
7. Patty Wallace leaves her ability for "ditching" dates to Gladys Tirey.
8. I, Dorothy Klingler, do hereby bequeath my affection for red-headed men to Christine Hartzler, in order that Ed Woolverton may have a chance.
9. Clyde Rooks and Gordon Wild leave their "Ag" knowledge to Carl Rettig and La Verne Thorpe.
10. Stewart Cain and Dale Hubbard leave some of their length to Ewing McClain. Why not?
11. Bill Buthorn leaves his Slouch Day attire to Robert Morgan.
12. Joe Whalley and Harold Yeaman give up their seats in Chemistry to anyone who is not affected with insomnia.
13. Reeves Templeman donates his business-like air to Thomas Smith.
14. Holly Robinson and Florence Ridley leave their ability to chew gum in school and not get caught to anyone who aspires to this feat.
15. Fern Fleenor leaves her Ford to Lina May Smith.
16. Irwin Krueger bequeaths his scientific inclination to Harold Thompson.
17. Lillian Martin has nothing to leave, having given her heart to Bob Derryberry.
18. Don Rogers gives his Rudolph Valentino appearance to Bill Walsh.
19. Maxine Musgrave and Irene McCune are happy to give their ability to answer the apparently senseless questions of teachers to Fay Meders and May Broadhead.
20. Elizabeth Tope and Martha Gene Rogers give their ability in acting the part of orphans to any aspiring to the silver screen.
21. Millicent Younger leaves her everlasting esteem to Sumner Wickersham.
22. I, Jean MacKenzie, donate my Virgil book to almost anyone. It is as good as new.
23. Hugh Pinger and Marcus Mohler leave their hard-boiled looks to George Hill.
24. Mary Plank, Flora Gallatin, Ruth Young and Mary Murdock leave their typing erasers to anyone who may benefit by them.
25. Roberta Richardson and Lucille Stoddard give to Nadene Borschell and Reva Downey their friendship.
26. Mary Luellen and Frieda Grimm bequeath their brevity to Lena Cardman.
27. Helen Sharp, Charlotte Shultz and Jane Myers leave their flapper methods to Florence Elder, Helen Odem and Herman Gullet.
28. Jack Rump leaves the excess pigment in his hair to Mary Ryan.
29. Bill Lacy leaves to Preston Walker his bored mien.
30. John Long leaves his grin to Hugh Blackstone.
31. We, Timothy Wakefield, Bob Derryberry and Newell Kephart, do bequeath our avoirdupois to Tiny Tisor, with the hope that with its addition he can make a name for himself in a side show.
32. James Baker leaves his stately bearing to Carol Southwell.
33. Russell Eddy will give his much-prized French horn to anyone who can stand it.
34. Allen Hottes and Norman Hickman leave their ability to keep cool in the face of faculty outbursts to Douglas Desch.
35. Elston Hiatt and Ralph Jones give their football success to Herb Westcott.
36. We, Mary and Betty Adams, leave our ability to talk faster and longer than anyone else to George Hillyer.
37. Bailey and Vera Arant leave their beautiful blonde hair to Faye Sheldon.
38. Kenneth McQueary, Wayne MacDonald and Frank White leave a lot of advice to the Class of '29.
39. Agnes Caldwell, Anna Lane, Helen Stough, Frieda Ward, Beatrice Kane, George Mans-

Class Prophecy

A Senior's Dream in the Year 1965

Last week I had a terrible nightmare which has remained imprinted on my mind so clearly that I can put down, word for word, what I dreamed. I am not dedicating this to any certain person, for, as far as I know, I am the last of our Class of 1928. However, I am writing this in the hope that someone will read it who is either a descendant of one of our class or who is vitally interested in the lives of the best class that was ever graduated from G. J. H. S.

I dreamed I was standing on a busy street corner of the large city of Punkin Center. One of the most expensive and magnificent limousines of that time, a product of the MacKenzie-McQueary Company, drew up at the curb, and our old friend, Stewart Cain (who had on the perfectly beautiful livery of a footman), got out and opened the door, and lo! there appeared to my sight the old president of our Senior Class, the Right Hon. Richard Williams, who was now the president of the Dog Collectors' Union. Before the car drove away, I just had time enough to notice the driver. Imagine my surprise when I discovered it was Carl Holsington, who had been promoted from the lowly job of taxi-driver to the exalted position of chauffeur for Mr. Williams.

As I walked slowly down the street, I glanced into a second-hand store and saw the familiar figures of Lola Reed and Edna Jones tirelessly clerking for the owners of the store, R. Eddy and G. Isenminger.

As I went on my way, I came upon a small book store, owned by John Long, William Shaff and Edwin Soule, and there in the window was displayed the latest hit in novels—"How to Become Popular in Five Minutes"—by the noted author, Otto Jaros. I noticed that Elberta Soule was working in the store.

Soon tiring of window-shopping, I decided to go to a movie. I walked to one of the large theatres and was absolutely astounded when I saw that Bailey Arant, the screen idol, was starring in Don Rogers' greatest production, "Why Ladies Prefer Blondes," written by Bernice Holt. There I saw two more of our class, Jean Morris, the ticket-seller, and Holly Robinson, who was now an accomplished usher. The show was very good, and an added attraction was the first-class vaudeville, featuring Hugh, the Pugilist, in an amateur boxing bout with Allen Hottes. The second act was presented by the trio, Edna Bartholomew, Frieda Miller and Helen Stough, singing the popular ballad, "When Mother Hung the Ice Out to Dry." The third act was made up of dancing. It was a great surprise to me, for there was Fern Fleenor, the leader, with her marvelous chorus, consisting of Irma Avi, Hilda Weber, Freda Waard, Cecilia Premore, Mary Luellen, Iola Griffith, Maxine Musgrave and Mary Mudrock. The fourth act of this pleasing vaudeville was the Whalley-Wakefield-Wild Juggling Performance, and the fifth was a short play by the MacDonald Brothers entitled "Why Girls Leave Home," featuring George Mansfield. Marcus Mohler made a very convincing villain, while Myron Reed gave a very good characterization. I noticed on the program that Frank Swire, Simon Renick, Harold Yeaman and Clyde Van Loan were the stake hands, with Clarence Saunders as their manager.

When the show was over, I felt rather hungry and decided to visit one of the delicatessen shops near by. I entered a very attractive store and was very happy to see that Lucile Stoddard and Roberta Richardson were the proud and successful owners of this delightful shop. I had a long talk with these two, and they told me of the success of several of our friends: Newell Kephart had finally attained his ambition that of organist in a large cathedral in Paris. Norman Hickman had gone abroad on the same boat with Newell. Norman had just patented his own successful invention of something new a non-slip banana peel. Betty Adams had recently married the governor of Rhode Island, while Mary Adams had come in a close second by her marriage to the governor's private secretary. Nancy Desch had had the honor of speaking in congress on the subject, "Why a Woman Should Be President." Roberta and Lucile also showed me the two main newspapers of the city, "The Morning Chuckle" and "The Evening Disappointment," which were both edited by Reeves Templeman, one of the most successful editors of the day. On the editorial staff were Jack Rump, Charles Falconi and Clyde Rocks. Ernest Audino, James Baker, Wendell Burckhalter and Floyd Gallatin were running a large chicken ranch out in Montana.

After leaving the delicatessen, I decided I had time to see the last part of the Kreps Bros. Circus. I took a street car out to the suburb where the circus was being held, and had a long chat with the rising young street-car conductor, Wil-

Place: Home of Dorothy Klingler.

Cast: Mary Adams, Dorothy Klingler.

D: Oh, hello, Mary.

M: Oh, Dorothy, I'm so glad to see you!

D: Isn't college grand? How do you like it?

M: Oh, it's acrumptious! But don't you kind of miss the people we knew a few years ago?

D: Oh, dear!—Weren't we funny as Freshmen?

M: I felt so lost; everything was so big, and we mixed our classes. Remember when we got into Mr. Herr's room and we had to dissect a dead cat! We thought we were in Ancient History, but we didn't know it was quite so ancient. Who was our president?

D: Oh, John Hall. At Piggleteria we had a fish-pond, with all the gir's dressed in overalls with fish-poles and Jo'in was the biggest Fish there. Speaking of presidents, wasn't Martha Gene our president for the Sophomore year?

M: Martha Gene? You mean that girl who thought the Bridal Chorus was "Horses! Horses!"

D: Yeh; and that year we had seats in the Senior Assembly and didn't we think we were it?

M: We thought the teachers would take us for Seniors; but one of 'em asked Mr. Hiron how the eighth-graders got up THERE.

D: But, when we were Juniors! That was the year that made history. The first Senior-Junior and the first dance in the new gym.

M: First high-heeled slippers. Ouch!

D: Half the football and basketball teams were Juniors. And we got to be members of the "Furriners' Clubs."

M: That was when Nancy Desch thought the penny ante was her father's Scottish relation until she ran the gambling joint for the Piggleteria.

D: And we had one debater on the first team. Because she talked so much, they put her on in self defense.

M: All our bright lights shone on the scholarship and rhetorical teams. Why, we were so bright then that the sun took his first vacation in a hundred years!

D: Oh, make it a thousand. And we finished off by giving the Seniors a royal hop and a sprightly feast. One of the druggists told me he made $150 on Blue Jay corn-plasters that next week.

M: Dick Kelly surely had a fine class to pres.de over, didn't he?

D: Here's to Dick Kelly, the best president a Junior class ever had. He was only a milkman's son, but his face cowed many a girl. Dick Williams and Miss Stockdale ran things pretty well in our Senior year, too.

M: Dick Williams—I can't remember him. Was he that prize-fighter that always had a black eye?

D: No; he was the sheik of the school. He had hair-curlers—er—ah—I mean curly hair!

M: Our all-star Senior football team won the championships and beat North Denver High. And Yale refused our challenge! After that we introduced the Juniors to old man Society and old lady Etiquette.

D: Basketball was what you might say BALLY good that year.

M: And the Senior play! My dear, if so many people weren't around, I'd say you were simply heavenly. For weeks we went about with our heads full of orphan asylums, cranky-red-haired uncles and divine lovers and loveresses.

D: Wasn't our debating team noble that year? They went to Denver on the school's money and visited the City Park. After they left, the magpies and parrots simply gave up and died.

M: Yeh; and we started the precedent of Sneak Day.

D: Only like the weather, it was all wet. Oh, dear, those pictures! Dick Kelly was the smart one, though. He had more pictures than anyone else; but, as he says, it's hard to be in a dark room for three hours and get nothing but negatives.

M: Don't you remember the Senior picnic, when we all fell in the river, and for eats we had snake-tail soup, minced ants and finished off with peeled noses?

D: Ho-hum! Baccalaureate and Graduation, when we all dressed up in our best clothes. We called them dresses, but they must have been pajamas, because we slept through the speeches of Kephart, Adams, Adams and Desch.

M: Yes, and I never want to see a dandelion again, after those boys gathered so many of "our class flowers."

D: Must you go?

M: Absolutely. Don't press me to stay. I've enjoyed it so much.

D: Do come again and we'll have a gorgeous talk about old times.

M: (walking off) Good-bye, my dear.

D: Good-bye.

The Orange and Black and The Tiger

The Orange & Black and the Tiger have seen another year of success which marks the eighth year of their existence.

Founded in 1919 as a small pamphlet, 8 by 11 inches, the Orange & Black has now become a publication of regular newspaper size, containing from four to six pages with many departments. In each issue the staff has endeavored to give a compact and interesting review of the high school activities; the social functions of the various clubs and organizations in its department; an account of the actions of our athletic teams in the Sports page; the editor's sentiments in the Editorial column; jokes, poetry and other bits of fun in the Feature page; news items, and other serious and worth-while ar-

A good indication of the success of the Orange & Black this year is the fact that it won first place in its division in the annual Rocky Mountain High School Newspaper Contest.

Particular credit is due to Reeves Templeman, editor-in-chief of the Orange & Black and the Tiger, to whose efforts the success of the Orange & Black and the annual must be largely accredited.

By maintaining the same high policy of former years, and by introducing new departments and systems as was seen fit, the staff has published a series of papers of which the Grand Junction High School may well be proud.

A Senior's Dream in the Year 1965

(Class Prophecy Concluded.)

Ham Lacy. Since some of our friends were with the circus, I must tell you some parts of it. David Green and Francis White were one of the side-show attractions; they were the Champion Fire-Eaters of the World. Bob Derryberry and Charles Downing were both very efficient lion-tamers. Dick Kelly, Lawrence Rosen and Elston Hiatt had accomplished an almost impossible feat—that of training tigers to play football. Zela Milla, Millicent Younger, Frieda Grimm and Georgia Morley were tight rope walkers, while Flora Gallatin, Jane Myers, Helen Sharp and Ruth Young were daring trapeze performers. Beatrice Kane was the fat lady in the side show, while Agnes Kniley was the snake-charmer. Oryl Burnett, Lillian Martin, Irene McCune and Eleanor Robinson were riding Shetland ponies bareback (I mean the horses, not the ladies).

After leaving the circus, I met Kermit Griffith, the art critic, who asked me to go to the art gallery to see the famous paintings, by Marvin Musgrave, of the Halls of Fame—Faye Hall, John Hall, Ada Hall and Kenneth Hall. There was also an Italian sunset, painted by Ralph Jones; I thought it looked more like a fried egg, but I said it was beautiful.

After my day's exertions, I decided a facial might improve my appearance; so I started for one of the best beauty parlors. On my way, whom should I meet but Loraine Fisher and Karl Schaefer, who told me they were no longer Loraine and Karl, but Lorainio Fisherio and Karlio Schaeferius, from Spainio, and that they were in a dancing act in a vaudeville.

I entered the beauty parlor where I was warmly greeted by Martha Gene Rogers and Jean Johnson, who owned the shop. Dorothy Klingler, the beauty specialist, had just finished giving facials to Jeanette Mathias and Anna Lane. She debated whether to use the Madge Reynolds beauty clay or the Opal Minshall facial massage, which were both highly recommended.

After I had my facial, I walked down the street and saw a fine building with the huge sign, "Sroaf-Burke Undertaking Establishment—Eventually, Why Not Now?" This was right next to the magnificent Buthorn Hotel—the "La Yard."

I took the street car to the suburbs and then walked for quite a while in the cool, fresh, country air. In my aimless wanderings, I came upon a green, grassy graveyard. I was very surprised to see walking toward me, with bowed head and faltering steps, the stooped figure of John Hall, the ancient caretaker of the Tooner-ville Cemetery.

I almost wept as he showed me the epitaphs of some of our old classmates. The following are some of the sad, sorrowful epitaphs which I read:

Avis Egger we must not forget;
If she hadn't died, she'd be living yet.

Agnes Caldwell, it came to pass,
Choked to death on a blade of grass.

Helen Chadwick, the poor little thing,
Died because she tried to sing

Here lies the body of Pauline Coe;
She grieved to death over her small shadow.

Here lies the body of Lynola Day;
She died with not a thing to say.

Here lies the body of Frieda Diehl,
Poor girl! she slipped on a banana peel.

Here's Charlotte Schultz, among the rest;
She caught her head in a cedar chest.

Here lies the body of Alicia Eames,
She laughed so much she split her seams.

Here lies the body of Geary, Jim.
He choked to death on a safety-pin.

Henrietta Gentry, she was so nice;
Died while eating a piece of ice.

Patty Wallace ate some cake;
Her last illness was a stomach ache.

Dale Hubbardt went to bed,
Blew out the gas and woke up dead.

Here lies poor Evelyn Inglehart,
She died because she was so smart.

Erwin Krueger, so they say,
Died while trying to pitch some hay.

Here lies the body of Mary Plank
She died 'cause she was so lean and lank.

Here lies the body of Elizabeth Tope,
She died while hanging on the end of a rope.

Here lies the body of Mary Lander,
She died just after her boss canned her.

Here lies the body of Louise Tracy,
She lost her heart to a boy named Lacy.

Is this a dream, or is it true?
I'll just leave it up to you.

We will probably none of us ever know, but we can all remember the ideals and the glory of our class, and always keep the memory of our good times in the best class of old G. J. H. S., THE CLASS OF '28.

FLORENCE RIDLEY.

Boys' Athletics

A Successful Year in Athletics

Without a doubt the Tigers have just completed their most successful year from the standpoint of athletics.

The High School has never before produced such a smooth-working, consistent ground-gaining football team. The gridsters went through the season without a defeat in their conference games. To top off this perfect record, they defeated North Denver, Durango and Moab, champions of their corresponding divisions.

The basketball team was perfect in every detail. The quintet was composed entirely of letter men, four of whom had played together for three years. The Tigers won the championship of their division, the championship of the Western Slope and third place in the State Tournament. The team went through the season winning 26 games and losing 2.

The girls' basketball team was a decided success, although it did not win the conference championship. The team was made up largely of new material, but, under the coaching of Mrs. R. H. Holt, turned out to be a very excellent team, winning second place in its conference.

The track team did not enjoy the success of the other branches of athletics in the school, but it was a well-rounded-out team, being beaten by teams which were strong in one certain line of the track and field events. The team lost for the second time in succession the Western Slope meet at Montrose, but came back at the end of the season defeating Fruita, the slope champs.

The success of the teams this year was in no small measure due to the excellent coaching of R. H. Holt, who has been with G. J. H. S. for four years. Coach Holt is, no doubt, the best coach on the slope and one of the best in the state. His teams have been noted for their flashy comebacks in the second halves of their games. His observations and information imparted to the players during their rest periods was largely responsible for this driving comeback. The wonderful winning streak of all G. J. High School teams in the last four years can be attributed to Coach Holt's efforts and advice.

Football

The 1927 football season was a banner one for Grand Junction High School. Under the guidance of Coach Holt and with Dick Kelley as captain, the team swept through the season winning ten games and losing none.

Eight of the previous year's team were back to fill their old positions and, with the remaining three positions ably filled, the squad was a sure winner, improving rapidly as the season progressed.

After sweeping all of their usual opponents off their feet in eight straight games, the Tigers began to look around for more victims. The Durango eleven, champions of southern Colorado and northern New Mexico, were chosen to meet the Tigers. A game was played resulting in a 31-to-0 victory for the Bengals. After this apparently easy victory, the school received a surprise when it was announced that the Tigers would play the North Denver Vikings, champions of the Denver-Boulder League. This game was more talked of than any other athletic contest ever scheduled here, this being the first attempt of any Grand Junction team to meet an Eastern Slope team on the local field. The game in itself would have been dull had it not been for the fact that North Denver was an Eastern Slope team. The Tigers played their best and defeated their opponents 18 to 0 before the largest crowd ever assembled on a local field for a contest of this kind.

After this string of victories, the team expected to enter the State Tournament, but a mistake on the part of one of the officials cost them their chance to compete.

The only man who played on this year's team left for the next season is Shepardson, captain-elect, and he will be the nucleus for the 1928 grid squad.

The following men were awarded letters:

Baker, Burckhalter, Rump, K. Hall, G. Jones, Arant, J. Hall, R. Jones, Griffith, D. Hiatt, E. Hiatt, Kelley, Wescott, R. Kreps, Geary, Minshall, Whalley, Shepardson.

Boys' Basketball

The 1927-28 basketball season was perhaps the best ever undertaken by the Tigers. The Bengals captured the Slope Tournament for the third time in succession, thereby winning permanent possession of the silver trophy.

The Tigers played 28 games in all, winning 26 of them and losing 2. They went through their conference without a loss and topped off their performance by winning the slope championship in four straight games. After winning the slope title, the Tigers went to the State Tournament at Fort Collins. Five games were played by the Tigers at that meet and by winning three of them they were entitled to third place. The games at the State Tournament were closer than they had ever been before, due chiefly to the elimination process the teams go through, making the competition much stronger. The state is divided into five leagues; the winner and runner-up of each league are entitled to enter the tournament at Fort Collins. This puts ten teams in the schedule and only the strongest teams are entered. This is the first time in the history of the school that a G. J. team has ever actually won third place, although several years ago one of our teams won fourth place and was advanced to third place because the supposed team winning third place had played an ineligible man.

Two Tigers were given places on the All-Slope team this year: Elston Hiatt was chosen for one of the forwards and John Hall was chosen for center. Arant was given the honor of being the best all-around player at the Slope Tournament. At the State Tournament, Shepardson was given honorable mention. He was the only Bengal to receive this honor.

The following men received letters:

Arant, Hall, Hiatt, Kreps, Baker, Shepardson, Wescott, Hay, Rosen and Whalley.

Track Success in 1928

The track team did not meet with the extreme success that the other branches of athletics in the school did. The Tigers met Fruita at the first of the season in a dual meet. They carried off all honors in this meet quite easily. All of last year's stars showed up well, and great things were expected of the team when they went to the Slope Meet held at Montrose. The Bengals received a severe setback when they were defeated in this meet by Fruita, whom they had conquered earlier in the season. The Tigers did not even get second place or third place, but fell to the most unusual position for them of fourth place. This defeat was unexpected at the hands of Fruita. The team seemed to go to pieces after Hiatt lost first place in the shot put, and after that they took only a half-hearted interest in the meet. Five new records were broken in the meet. The ancient high jump record of 5 feet 11½ inches, formerly held by Friedman of Grand Junction, fell, and a new mark of 5 feet 11¾ inches was hung up in its place. The pole vault mark was shattered and a new mark of 11 feet ½ inch was set. Elston Hiatt's record of 43 feet in the shot put was raised to 43 feet 1 inch by Boughton of Fruita. The 220-yard dash record, formerly held by Jones of Grand Junction was broken by Hollenbeck of Hotchkiss. The new record in this event is 23 seconds flat. Kiefer of Fruita accomplished the unbelievable and tossed the discus 119 feet 8½ inches, setting a new record. Some of these records will undoubtedly stand for a long time to come.

To prove their real value, the Tigers met Fruita in the Junior College Meet and conquered their old foes by a large number of points. Hiatt downed Boughton in the shot put, but no throw made by either approached the record. Aiken of Fruita carried off the honors in the dashes, and Kiefer of the same town won his usual first in the discus. Whalley tied the Junior College mark in the high jump. The real surprise of the day came when Kelley led Aiken in the first lap of the relay, giving the second man a lead which Fruita could not overcome.

Kreps took the baton and ran the last lap, leaving Boughton, Fruita's "big noise," hopelessly in the rear. Boughton, outdistanced, claimed a foul, but nothing along that line was granted by the judges. The result of this meet showed what the Tigers were really capable of doing, and it also showed that the Tiger team was well rounded out and not strong in any certain line.

Letters will be awarded to a number of the track men later on.

The "G" Club is the most exclusive organization in the school, consisting only of those boys who have made their letters in athletics. It was first organized in the latter part of the year of 1925 and has been an active organization since. Its purpose is to promote better sportsmanship and cleaner athletics in the school.

This year the "G" Club has held its regular meetings on the school club days. The annual initiation banquet was held December 23rd and was a great success. On this occasion all the new lettermen who have earned their letters in football, basketball or track are given a strenuous initiation and heartily welcomed into the club.

As most of the members of the club this year are seniors who will graduate the club next year will be made up of most all new members. We hope that they will reorganize the club and carry on its good work for more successful years.

Girls' Basketball Team

The girls' basketball team, under the coaching of Mrs. Holt, went through a successful season, losing only one game—that to Fruita, the conference champions. With a squad of 65 reporting daily for practice, the selection of the first team was no easy matter, and thus many substitutes were used in every game played. Although the team did not win the championship of their conference, their achievement was notable, considering the fact that only one girl of last year's team was on the team this year.

The Tigresses lost their first game to Fruita, but they showed what they were capable of when they met their old opponents later on in the season, very nearly upsetting the dope, losing their second game in the last ten seconds of play by one point. The loss of their second game with Fruita cost them their chance to compete in the Slope Tourney held at Delta; so they had to be content with second place in their conference.

Eleven girls received letters this year, five of whom will be back to try for the team next year. Genevieve Roessler was elected captain for the next year's team. She was the backbone of this year's team, and her playing should decide to a large extent the success of next year's team.

The Student Body Association, under the leadership of John Hall, has completed a very successful year. It was a year of success, both from the standpoint of activities and in a financial way.

The Student Body Association has general control of all of the activities of the school, and is governed in all its actions by a very carefully written constitution and by-laws adopted by the High School last year.

The affairs of the association are carried on largely by two standing committees, namely: the executive committee and the budget committee. These committees are composed of representative students of the High School and a few faculty members.

It is the duty of the budget committee to apportion all funds among the various school activities in a fair and impartial way. All requests for funds and payment of bills are passed on by this committee and their recommendation is then placed before the executive committee for final action. It is the duty of the executive committee to carry out the constitution and by-laws. Their decision pertaining to money matters or other school matters is absolutely final.

Another interesting and useful organization under the control of the Student Body Association is the home room council. This organization is for the purpose of discussing any problems or questions of school interest, and has no authority to take any action, but may make recommendations to the executive committee for action. It affords a clearing-house for ideas of the association and also gives a splendid opportunity for initiating new ideas.

Another important organization under the control of the association is the police squad, which was formed two years ago. This group has been very helpful to the school during games and meetings and the members have received many favorable comments from visitors and townspeople for the way in which they have handled large crowds. The squad has been called upon by the city police to assist during tournaments held in the city.

The year in all respects has been very successful and much credit is due John Hall, president, who has handled executive matters in a very creditable way.

The Boys' League, organized in 1926, has been gaining popularity each year and has been especially successful this year.

This league was organized to unite all the boys of the school in an organization which would help advance the interests of the entire membership along lines of school activities and achievements.

One of the greatest achievements of the Boys' League has been its solving of the problem of order in student gatherings and groups. This has been accomplished by the selection of a police force from the students, which has been recognized by the city police officials and town people as one of the most efficient groups ever chosen from a school to aid in the maintaining of order.

Edar B. Roe, adviser for the last two years, has been the biggest factor in the success of the league, and was unanimously chosen as adviser for next year. As long as Mr. Roe remains at the head of the league, it can be expected to remain in the lead.

The Boys' League has always taken an active part in all activities and problems of the high school and has a clean and bright path for a wonderful future.

The Girls' League, during the year 1927-28, under the able management of its president, Alicia Eames, has grown and is now one of the most progressive organizations of the High School.

At the first of the school year the biggest undertaking was the Little Sister movement, very efficiently handled by the president. Every Junior and Senior girl was appointed a Big Sister to a Freshmen or new girl. It was the Big Sister's duty to make her Little Sister well acquainted with the routine of High School, her teachers and all her class-mates. Every Big Sister was to take her Little Sister to the first Girls' League party. This movement was extremely successful and appreciated by all Little Sisters.

During the meeting of the Colorado Education Association, the Girls' League rendered invaluable assistance by meeting trains with cars, serving on information bureaus, acting as ushers at meetings, and taking teachers wherever they wished to go.

On Christmas eve members of the Girls' League paid a visit to the county poor farm, singing carols and distributing boxes of candy, oranges and small gifts. The girls were well rewarded for their efforts by the sincere gratitude of the appreciative inmates.

After every football and basketball game, the home and visiting teams were served with a substantial supper by the members of the league. Especial praise is given to the league on this account.

On Valentine's day the girls gave a Mother's tea. Every girl brought her mother or some guest. A program was given, followed by tea served in the cafeteria rooms.

The Girls' League had charge of a Pirates' Den at the annual Piggletaria and cleared $40 for the Student Body Association.

During the year the league had two very successful parties which have increased the spirit of good-fellowship among the girls.

The school year ending June, 1928, closes one of the most successful years for the Girls' League—an enterprising organization which, in the years to come, will doubtless carry out policies which will rate high among those sponsored by city clubs and institutions.

Debating

The Tiger Debating Team completed an unusually successful season under the excellent coaching of Mrs. Grace N. Smith. It took first place in the Western Slope Division contests and second place at the State Meet in Boulder.

Due to the new "Round Robin" point system and a different plan for debates on the Western Slope, Grand Junction met only three teams before waging the championship contest at Boulder. These three debates were held with Mesa, Appleton at Grand Junction, and Gunnison at Montrose.

The team won a two-to-one decision against Fountain, Colo., in the championship meet at Boulder, but lost the second debate to Yuma.

The question was one which concerns all citizens of Colorado and is of interest to many, being "Resolved that the dam at Boulder Canon should be built according to the terms of the present Swing-Johnson bill."

Rhetorical Team

The Grand Junction Rhetorical Team of 1928 had a most successful year. Previous to the Western Slope contest, annually held at Montrose, much enthusiasm and interest was evinced by the local students. As a result of this, an extraordinarily fine team went to Montrose in May.

The team made a good showing with a first in Original Oration, a second in Humorous, a second in Argument and a third in Dramatic Reading, making a total of 55 points for Grand Junction. Montrose won the cup by a margin of 6 points. Much hope is felt for the recovery of the cup at the next contest, as the team loses only two members this year.

The judging was done by Dayton D. McKeen, instructor of debating and public speaking at the University of Colorado. His work was very satisfactory.

The personnel of the team was Edwin Woolverton, Learned Oration, Faye Sheldon, Humorous Reading, Betty Adams, Original Oration, Newell Kephart, Argument, and May Broadhead, Dramatic Reading.

The team was ably coached by Miss Gladys Guillet, adviser.

Scholarship Honors

Scholarship Team

The Grand Junction scholarship team seemed to be outclassed this year in the scholarship contests at Gunnison. Jean Vandemoer, who won third in Latin, was the only member of the team who placed. Montrose won first place, with a total of 18 points, while Salida was second with 16 points to their credit.

Grand Junction won the preliminaries held here and received the silver cup which was presented by Dr. Whitman, who had charge of the contest for this district. Those who won the privilege of representing Grand Junction at Gunnison by placing first or second in the preliminaries were: Velma Reynolds, Algebra; Alice Perk, Physics; Jean Vandemoer and Robert Turner, Latin; Gwendolyn Landron, Geometry; Forrest McDonald, Chemistry, and George Hill, American History.

Due to the fact that our band was in Denver at the time of the contest, Grand Junction had no entries in the music contest held in Gunnison at the same time as the scholarship contests.

The Science Club was organized for the purpose of creating enthusiasm along the lines of science and to promote scientific experimentation and investigation in our High School. All of the meetings from first to last have been overflowing with new experiments and amply filled with highly interesting and worth-while lectures.

More than twenty new members were taken in at the annual initiation, and it was pronounced an affair never to be forgotten by those present.

"Wonders of Science" was the club's stunt for Piggletaria. It proved extremely interesting to everyone and brought in bigger proceeds than had ever been taken in before by the club.

Chemistry, Electricity, Physics and Biology are the four main fields of science covered by the club. Aviation and Radio were also emphasized this year both through experiments and in talks. These branches of science are studied by the members and experiments in each branch given by the members at the club meetings tend to arouse interest in a better way. The club has had the pleasure of hearing talks by prominent scientists of the vicinity on varied subjects, and the members have enjoyed them very much.

With the closing of school in June the Science Club completes its third successful year. The experience gained this year will help to increase the members' understanding of science. The outlook for next year's club is fine, and it is hoped that next year's club will be as successful as the club of '28.

The Rhetorical Club was founded out of a desire to recognize and encourage ability in every form of public speaking. It has carried on its work faithfully this year and has resulted in the improvement of the club and its members.

The activities of the Rhetorical Club have been more numerous and varied than those of any previous year. The members have had opportunities to take part in some very worthwhile programs.

An entertaining stunt, called "A Trip to South America," was put on for the Piggletaria. New pins were purchased this year. Miss Guillet was elected sponsor and had an active part in making a success of the year's activities.

The annual banquet, May 29th, which was much enjoyed by the club members, marked the end of a successful year.

The Ag. Club of the High School was organized in the fall of 1919, following the installation of the Smith-Hughes vocational course in agriculture. This year the club is made up of about 45 active members, mostly of the Ag. classes.

One of the main activities of the year is the grain and stock judging contest. This year Cedaredge took the sweepstakes and our boys took fifth. Lee Hall was high point man in hogs and Floyd Gallatin in dairy cattle.

The Ag. Club has always had the reputation of putting on a good stunt for the Piggleteria; this year they maintained this reputation by successfully staging a circus in the gym.

On the social list this year was added the "Harvest Festival," where the boys brought their lady friends and all had a good time. This was a great success and will be an annual social function. The annual picnic with the Home Economics Club was also a great success.

El Circulo Espanol was organized to bring those students studying Spanish into closer relationship with the affairs and customs of Spain and Spanish speaking countries and to aid in the pronunciation of Spanish words.

The club holds a meeting once each sextile. Interesting programs are prepared. These consist of musical numbers and current events concerning Spain and Latin America. A play, "El Doble Robo," was given in Spanish. Spanish costumes were used which materially added interest to the enjoyable play.

At the close of the school term, the second-year Spanish students were hosts and hostesses to the first year Spanish students at a picnic.

The History and Travel Club is a new organization recently added to the list of school clubs. It was organized at the beginning of the school year under the supervision of Miss Melcher. The club's membership is made up of those students who are interested in the study of history and travels in every country.

Meetings are held in school time every six weeks, during which programs are given consisting of talks by people who have visited or lived in different lands and a study of the customs, government, music and art of various countries.

The forty members of the club this year all co-operated in the duties that were assigned to them in the club's part in the Piggletteria and other activities.

The Home Economics Club was organized three years ago, and is now one of the most important and interesting clubs in the school. The club is made up of members of sewing and cooking classes and other girls who have had work along this line.

The object of the club is to promote interest in home life and all home activities. During this year excellent speeches were given by members of the club and other people who are interested in this work.

Mrs. Magill gave the club a very interesting talk on etiquette and table service, and Mrs. Lyons, of the Fair store, discussed spring styles, colors and fabrics. These talks were enjoyed very much by the girls.

The club had a delicatessen booth at the Piggleteria this year. This has become a custom since the club was organized, and is very popular and successful.

With June, the Latin Club closes a successful and highly enjoyable year. The purpose of the club—that of studying Roman times and customs, promoting friendliness between the Cicero and Virgil classes—has been well carried out this year. The requirement for membership is that the student be taking either Cicero or Virgil. Meetings are held during school time on regular club meeting days. At the meetings talks on Roman life and customs and on all topics of interest to the Latin students are given the club members

At the beginning of the year each member assumes a Latin name by which he is known throughout the year

The First Aid Club was organized in 1926 by Miss Madeline Buck, school nurse, for the girls who are interested in promoting the health of the community.

This year the club was under the able supervision of Miss Beulah Borschell, the city school nurse, and through her influence has accomplished many things.

Classes are held every Monday evening after school, and great attention is given to essentials in first aid, study of personal health, home and baby hygiene.

The club is most fortunate in having practical as well as scientific training. This year, clinics for the removal of tonsils and adenoids for indigent cases were held, where the girls assisted the doctors in the operating and cared for the patients while coming out from the an-aesthetic.

This year the girls assisted the doctors in examining over 200 children of pre-school age. This was the largest clinic ever held for children of pre-school age.

The club this year was most fortunate in having the opportunity to visit and go through St. Mary's hospital.

Police Squad

Chief of Police . .
 Assistant Chief of Police
 Adviser _____

_____ Kenneth Hall
 Robert Denslow
 _____ E. B. Roe

The police squad is a new organization in the Grand Junction High School. It was organized in 1925 by the Boys' League, and it is hoped that the boys in the future will try to make this organization bigger and better every year. The organization is new and has some weak points, but on the whole it is well organized and is in the school to stay as long as there be need for a police squad.

A brief outline of the year's work: Last fall, during football season, the squad managed the crowds at the games, and were working in conjunction with the city police. Then during the basketball season the squad took tickets and seated the people in the gym. The latter part of the year, during the band meet here, the squad again helped the city police in handling the traffic of the main streets and also the cars at Lincoln Park

The members of the squad have enjoyed their work and hope that the boys of 1928-29 will enjoy it as much as they have.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

The Senior Class Play

"Daddy Long Legs"

On March 22nd, one of the most successful class plays ever given was put on by a well selected cast from the Senior Class. Two hundred and fifteen dollars was the sum cleared, and, since the Avalon was filled to capacity on both afternoon and evening of the day of the presentation, a more complete success could not be looked for.

Much of the credit for the unusual success of the play should go to Miss Kla, who, with untiring efforts, directed the play. Dick Williams, class president, also did his part, with the help of Miss Stockdale, class adviser.

The well known play, "Daddy Long Legs," from the story by Jean Webster, was the one chosen by the Senior Class. The appealing story of an orphan girl who was adopted by an unknown benefactor, whom she names "Daddy Long Legs," and with whom she falls in love, furnished the audience with countless opportunities for laughter and tears alike. Every part was well taken, from the leading roles, taken by Lillian Martin as Judy and William Lacy as Jervis Pendleton, the real "Daddy Long Legs," to the smaller roles of the big cast.

The J-R Club was organized in 1920 for the purpose of supporting all High School activities. It has since come to mean to the school what the service clubs of the city mean to the community and is recognized by the other service clubs as an aid in progressive development.

The J-R Club holds a regular meeting every other week at the Grand Junction Country Club.

A few of the outstanding services of the club, past and present, include: the purchase of blankets and sweaters for the basketball teams (1921); the erection of a monument in honor of Helen A. Dewey, pioneer instructor in the Grand Junction schools; and the presentation of ribbons in the Track, Rhetorical and Musical contests at Montrose.

The term of 1927-28 has been a most successful one for the club. It has acquired a membership of twenty-five, has held three initiations without great casualties and has given the annual dance at the Country Club.

Music a Spirit

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club is made up of twenty-four girls from the Senior and Junior classes, under the direction of Audre Stong.

Try outs were held this year for the choosing of the best voices. Early in the year harmony was studied, which gave a better understanding of the music studied later for public work.

The most important event of this year was the annual Glee Club contest at Montrose, May 4th, in which Grand Junction placed third.

The Glee Club gave a concert at the Methodist church on April 1st, which was quite a success. The girls sang at the Lions' Club and at the preliminary rhetorical contests.

Several trios were formed early in the year and later a contest was held to pick three girls to sing at one of the concerts given by the band. The trio chosen also went to Denver with the band for the State Contest and made a fine showing.

The school year of 1927-28 has been the most successful in the history of the Grand Junction High School Band. For the first time since its organization five years ago, the band participated in the Rocky Mountain School Band Tournament, in which it placed third.

The school year opened with the band's taking a trip to Hotchkiss as guests of the Chamber of Commerce. A large banquet was given the following night at which officers were elected for the coming year. In October, ten of the band members went to Denver to hear the Sousa Band Contest and to get an idea of the type of bands G. J. would be contesting against in the spring at the Band Tournament. The annual Band Show at the Avalon was given late in December and was a great success. The most important concert of the year was given at the Avalon theatre and was very much appreciated by the record-breaking crowd that attended.

At the invitation of the Paonia Band, the Grand Junction High School Band gave a concert at Paonia soon after the beginning of the second semester. It then participated in the annual Western Slope School Band Tournament held here in April. Our band placed first and second respectively in the parade and concert contests. Following this, the entire Grand Junction High School Band went to Denver to participate in the Rocky Mountain High School Band Tournament. This was the largest project ever undertaken by any school organization on the Western Slope.

The band has been able to carry out this extensive program only through the untiring efforts of Director Audre Stong, who has devoted much of his time and patience and is really responsible to a great extent for the success of the band. He has worked consistently with the boys and has done much to increase their appreciation of difficult classic selections. By having band practice practically every morning of the school year, the G. J. H. S. Band has developed into what judges classify as the third best band in the Rocky Mountain region. The selections played this year have been the hardest ever undertaken by the band, and it is very proud of the enviable record made. The able management of Charles Downing, president, is in no small measure an aiding factor to the perfect year. It is hoped that the Tiger Band of 1928-29 will successfully continue the wonderful program carried out this year.

GRAND JUNCTION HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The orchestra completed a very successful year's work by a parting on the Commencement program June 10. Their selections were "Savonle Dance" by Dwyer and "Seabang" by Bohn, as well as the "Scherzo" by Strauss.

The thirty-eight pieces in the orchestra included a wide variety of instruments and showed careful selection on the part of the director, Audre L. Stong. Their harmony was especially pleasing.

The orchestra practiced faithfully twice a week throughout the school year and Grand Junction High School is justly proud of this fine musical organization.

The Most Expensive Thing You Ever Bought

Now, honestly, what was the most expensive thing you ever bought? Wasn't it the dress or the pair of shoes that you put away in the closet after a few wearings—the article that didn't quite please you when you got it home?

Sometimes this is because your mind was too uncertain, but generally the article did not look as well after a few wearings as you thought it would.

That is exactly the reason we do not sell "seconds," job lots or bankrupt stocks. Our merchandise must stand the most rigid inspection before we offer it to you. We don't want any of those "expensive purchases" to be from our store, if we can help it.
